

Annual Report

CFHI
child family health international

Board of Directors

Gunjan Sinha

Board Chair
MetricStream

Kethlyn White

Treasurer
Capgemini

Evaleen Jones, MD

Secretary
CFHI Founder
Stanford University

Gary Kirkilas, DO

Alumni Advisory Board
Phoenix Children's Hospital

Scott Loeliger, MD

Contra Costa Regional Medical Center

Ted Dale

Aperian Global

Randi Ryan

ProMortgage

Cynthia Toms, PhD

Westmont College

Brian Roote, PhD

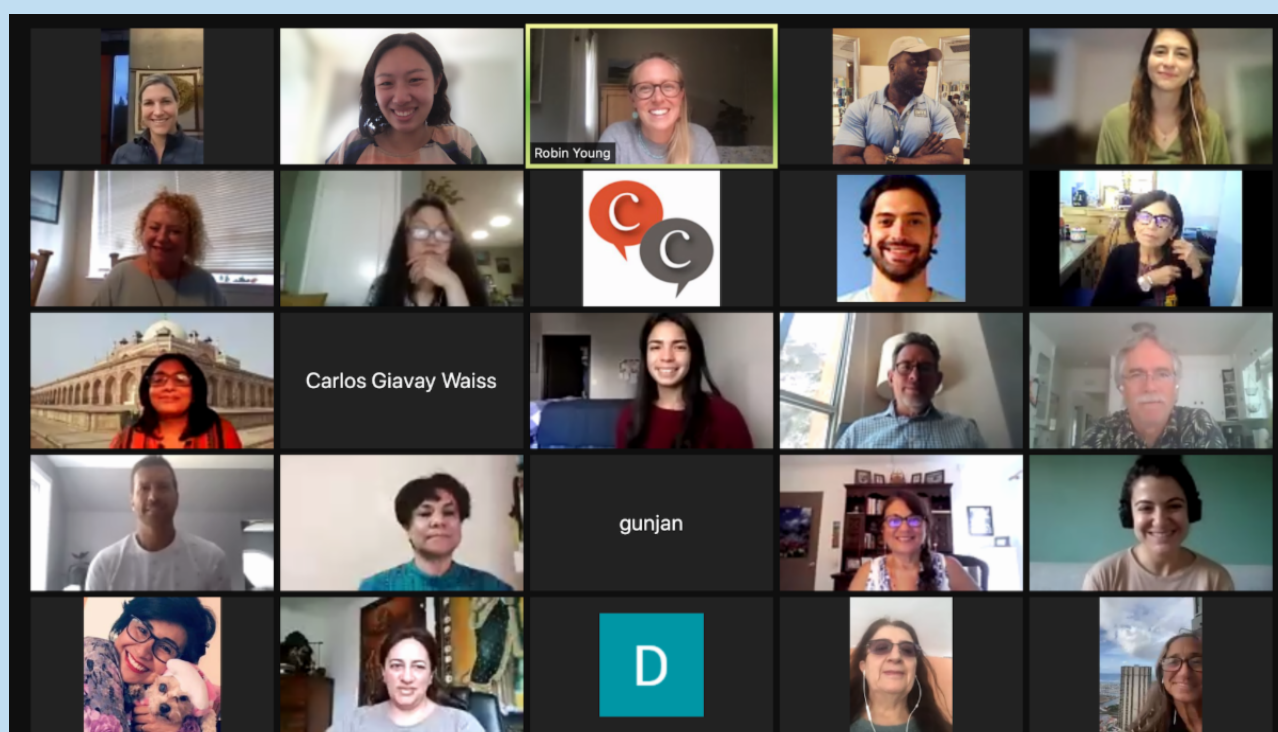

Regeneron
Pharmaceuticals

Alyssa Smaldino

Living Cities

Emily Avila

Calypso Communications

Child Family Health International (CFHI) is dedicated to offering transformative Global Health Education programs, research, and thought leadership emphasizing community leadership, global citizenship, and ethical engagement. CFHI's unique approach offers individual trainees and academic institutions opportunities to learn about global health while embedded in existing health systems and social service sectors alongside local community members and leaders.

Updates

In 2021, CFHI...

- Offered a portfolio of virtual programs including internships, practicums, and courses in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Launched the Virtual Global Health Elective for final-year medical students.
- Created Virtual Global Health Roundtables to bring together global health experts and provide students the opportunity to explore pressing challenges in global health from multiple perspectives.
- Offered solidarity stipends to all members of our Global Team totaling $11,530 amidst the ongoing cancellation of many place-based programs due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Contracted an external consultant to review CFHI's COVID-19 protocols for Place-Based programs. All emergency protocols and procedures were also subject to ongoing internal reviews by CFHI's internal Risk Management team.
- Reopened in-person programs in Oaxaca, Mexico in December, 2021
- Named Robin Young, former CFHI Managing Director, Executive Director.
- Named Dr. Jessica Evert, former CFHI Executive Director, Global Medical Director.
- Named Carolina Bolaños Palmieri, former CFHI Virtual Practicum Facilitator, Director of Programs and Safety.
- Welcomed Dr. Juliana Araya Amador to the team as Practicum Coordinator.
- Collaborated with various academic partners including Princeton University, and others to offer custom Virtual Global Health Programs.
- Received the GreatNonprofits Top-Rated Award.
- Received the GoAbroad Top-Rated Internship Organizations Award.
- Received the GoOverseas Community Choice Award.

Programs Spotlights

In 2021, CFHI partnered with various academic institutions to offer Global Health Education programs to students. Below are some highlights.

- In May, Gonzalo Claire, CFHI Bolivia Local Coordinator, and Dra. Cecilia Uribe, CFHI Bolivia Medical Director, led a successful one-week custom virtual program for students studying Occupational Therapy/Physical Therapy at the Medical University of South Carolina. Participants virtually visited multiple physical rehabilitation centers, discussed case studies, and immersed themselves in Bolivian culture.

- In June, CFHI collaborated with Princeton University and offered 8-week Virtual Global & Public Health Internships focused on India, Uganda, Bolivia, Ecuador, and Mexico. Students were assigned project deliverables and attended live health-focused lectures and cultural immersion sessions each week based on their country of focus. They also had the support of a teacher assistant throughout the summer program.

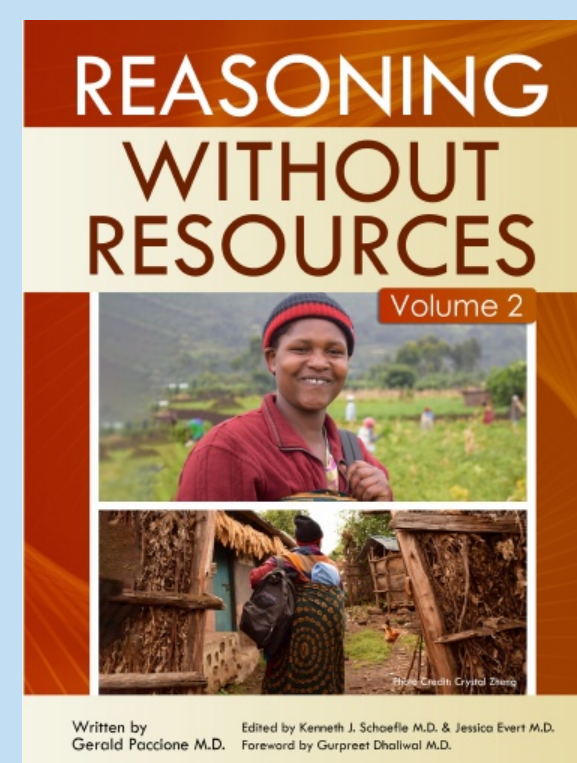

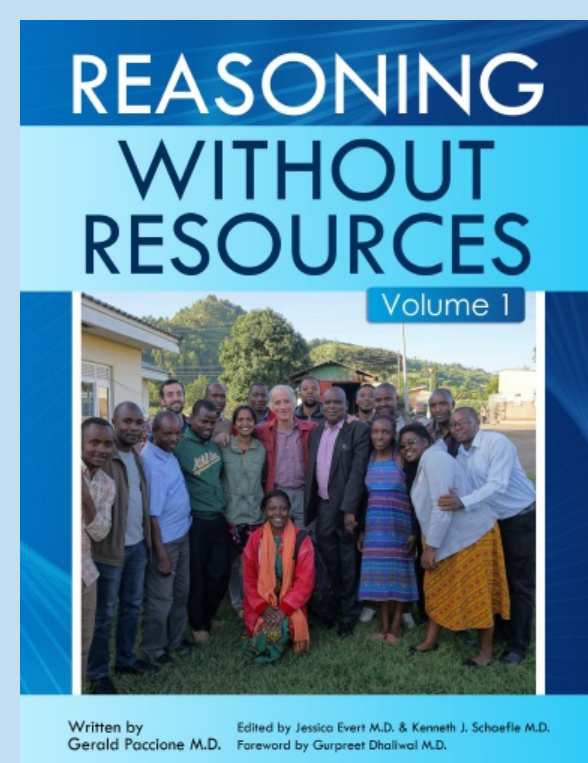

- In November, CFHI partnered with faculty at Knox College to relaunch a place-based program after pausing for nearly 2 years due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Students traveled to Oaxaca, Mexico for 2 weeks and learned about global health in both medical and NGO settings. They also took Spanish classes and participated in cultural immersion activities.

Publications

CFHI is honored to have contributed to the following publications:

- Eichbaum QG, Adams LV, Evert J, Ho MJ, Semali IA, van Schalkwyk SC. Decolonizing Global Health Education: Rethinking Institutional Partnerships and Approaches. Academic Medicine. 2021;96(3):329-335. doi:10.1097/ACM.00000000000003473
- Guzmán CAF, Aguirre AA, Astle B, et al. A framework to guide planetary health education. The Lancet Planetary Health. 2021;5(5):e253-e255. doi:10.1016/S2542-5196\(21\)00110-800110-8)
- Paccione G. Reasoning Without Resources Volume I. Global Health Collaborations Press; 2021.
- Paccione G. Reasoning Without Resources Volume II. Global Health Collaborations Press; 2021.

Scholarships

CFHI offered a total of $55,490 in scholarships in 2021. This included:

- 82 scholarships for the Virtual Global Health Elective.
- 5 Susan Hershey Memorial Scholarships.
- 3 AMSA Global Health Scholarships.
- 3 Thomas Hall Scholar Program Scholarships.
- 2 LMIC Leaders in Global Health Scholarships.

Thank you to our supportive donors for making CFHI programs accessible to students of all backgrounds!

Scholarship Recipient Spotlights

Ignatius Asasira, Makerere University College of Health Sciences, Kampala, Uganda
Virtual Global & Public Health Internship- India
LMIC Leaders in Global Health Scholarship

"Doing a virtual elective with emphasis on India opened my mind to identify as a global citizen. I realized we share a lot of challenges with many countries out there (out of Uganda, Africa) and that gave me a challenge to imagine that my practice as a doctor shall benefit every human being that comes to me. I enjoyed the Indian weekend classes, wow! Another international language was learned and spending hours online to share knowledge and experience with my colleagues across the borders was worth it. I look forward to sharing my experience with other students in Uganda who dream of achieving big things. Thank you CFHI!"

Yuliya Gluhova, Mississippi State University
Global Health Comparative: Virtual Internship
Thomas Hall Scholar Program Scholarship

"I completed CFHI's Virtual Global Health Comparative in May and loved every minute of it because it gave me an opportunity to not only learn from the experts in the field but also share my own thoughts with the class as well as get a cultural experience while being thousands of miles away from the countries I studied. Health and culture are inseparable things because frequently culture dictates the response of people to health challenges, and I believe that studying culture and health together will lead to innovative approaches in how we create and implement health policies."

Scholarship Recipient Spotlights

Zeinab Mohamud, University of Minnesota
Virtual Global & Public Health Internship - Ghana
Susan Hershey Memorial Scholarship

"This internship has given me the motivation to pursue a health related field and ignited a spark in me to push myself in becoming a health advocate especially for those in underserved communities. Although it was virtual, I learned so much from my program coordinator and peers through our conversations. I will never forget this experience and will definitely stay connected to CFHI as I strive to become one of the stepping stones in creating a healthcare society based on equity and equality."

Driss Davy Duhiteka, Zhejiang University, School of Medicine - Hangzhou, Zhejiang (China)
Global Health Comparative: Virtual Internship
Thomas Hall Scholar Program Scholarship

"As a prospective global health professional born and raised in Africa but educated at a medical college outside the continent, I had experienced major incongruities between the theoretical framework of medicine and the efforts needed to implement health equity in hospital settings and community health services. From the teachings I received during Dr. Charles Nwobu's online lectures in Ghana, Hema Pandey from India, as well as the Directors Seminars and multinational Global Health Roundtables, I was able to capture the essence of cultural effectiveness and adaptability as the basis of successful collaborative efforts to bring affordable and accessible healthcare for all."

Alumni Spotlights

Maryam Funmilayo, Lamar University
Virtual Global & Public Health Internship - Ghana

"It was an amazing, eye-opening experience. From our Ghana preceptor to my cohort colleagues, and all the lessons learned and videos shared with us about the healthcare system, food, history, and cultural traditions in Ghana, everything in between was enriching, enlightening, and exciting. I just concluded my virtual internship, and I am already thinking of when to enroll in another CFHI program in another part of the world. This is how fulfilled I am with my experience!"

Claire Swedberg, Pennsylvania State University
Virtual Global & Public Health Internship -
Ecuador (Quito)

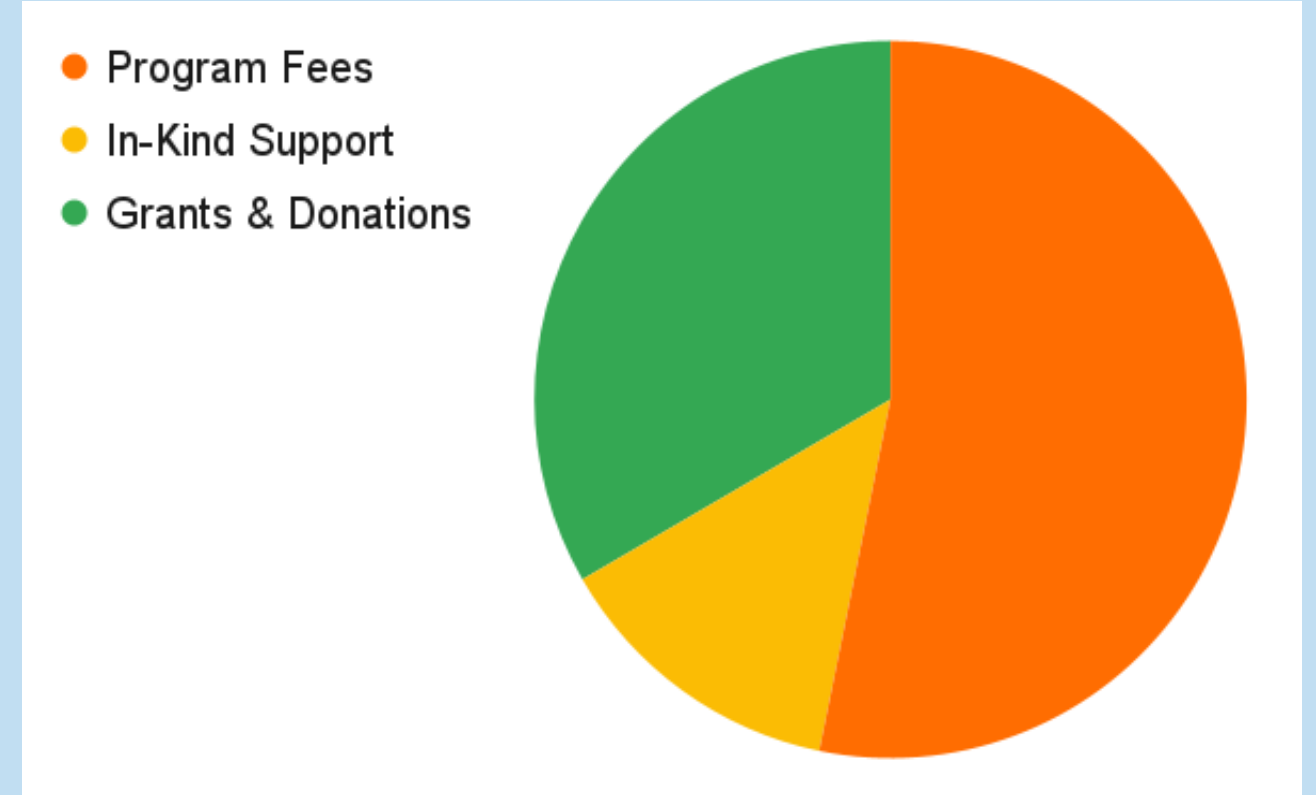

"I absolutely loved my virtual internship. The lessons were engaging and informative, and the intensive Spanish instruction was challenging and rewarding. I grew as a student and a global citizen during my four weeks of participation, and I even registered for a second four weeks focusing on another country. Thank you CFHI!"

Financial Report

Total Revenue

1. Program Fees	$384,908	53%
2. In-Kind Support	$97,141	14%
3. Grants & Donations	$241,366	33%
<hr/>
	$723,415

Total Expenditure

1. Program Services	$675,058	92%
2. General & Administrative	$52,891	7%
3. Fundraising	$2,505	1%
<hr/>
	$730,454

